

Titans UP Eligibility

Who is the Titans UP student?

Titans UP students have a documented intellectual disability. They are young men and women hoping to grow in independence and wanting to have their own job. They are strong readers and writers ready to tackle a busy schedule filled with classes, homework, employment readiness, and student work hours. They can get to and from campus and learn to navigate it independently. They are willing to make new friends and get involved in campus life.

Titans UP!

The Titans UP program will focus on three main areas:

1. on campus activities and academics
2. independent living skills
3. employment

In preparation for living a full, productive life, students are encouraged to participate in campus activities such as clubs, sports activities, and on campus events. Mentors will assist them in becoming active members of the college community.

FOR ACADEMICS students will participate in regular SPC courses with non-disabled peers along the Hospitality Pathway: Food and Beverage Specialist or Rooms Division Specialist. Students may take courses for credit or may audit their courses if recommended. Special supports include academic advisement, study sessions, reading and homework help, assistive technology, and modified learning plans — depending upon need.

LESSONS in INDEPENDENT LIVING

will include:

- self-determination and interpersonal skills
- daily living skills
- community living, travel and mobility
- socialization, relationships and self esteem
- money management

EMPLOYMENT NEEDS are addressed in partnership with Vocational Rehabilitation services, and include individual planning for employment, paid and non-paid internships, career services for resume writing, interview skills, and job placement with on-site support.

Our goal, for students, is to experience a well-rounded, fully inclusive, modified college experience while gaining the skills needed to transition to independent adult roles and into the workplace.
